EMERY SHEER AND VIVIAN PFEIFFER PROVIDE SEMINAR ABOUT COLLECTING AND DONATING FINE ART

Miami – April 30, 2007 — Emery Sheer, CPA, CVA, ABV, senior partner with the accounting firm of Berenfeld, Spritzer, Shechter & Sheer, recently teamed with Vivian Pfeiffer, managing director with Christie’s South Florida, to provide a seminar about the process of valuing, purchasing, collecting and donating fine art. More than 40 individuals attended the invitation-only event at the Coral Gables office of Berenfeld, Spritzer, Shechter & Sheer.

Attendees included high-net-worth clients of the accounting firm as well as other art collectors and philanthropists. Pedro Fernandez, vice president with Bernstein Global Wealth Management, provided opening remarks and introduced the speakers.

“We decided to provide this seminar to meet the needs of our firm’s high-net-worth clients who are interested in collecting and donating art as well as creating lasting legacies,” Sheer said. “Our clients recognize that donating fine art, antiques and collections can provide significant financial and tax benefits as long as they plan ahead and work with trusted advisors knowledgeable in tax laws.”

The evening seminar included a wine and cheese reception. Wines were provided by Graziano’s and presented by Maria Guzman with Terry Seitz, Inc, and cheeses were provided by Luis and Jose Tejeiro with Webeco Foods. Both Ms. Guzman and Webeco Foods are valued clients of Berenfeld Spritzer Shechter & Sheer.
